Guidance notes

a) Age/parental requirements in terms of making a subject access request (SAR) under the Data Protection Act 2018:

Mature pupils aged 13 and over can make a SAR for themselves. If a pupil is under 13 though, a request must come from their parent or legal guardian.

We expect mature pupils aged 13 or over to make their own requests however a parent or legal guardian may make a request on behalf of their child aged 13 or over if their child is unable to act on their own behalf or gives their consent for the information to be released to the parent.

b) Proof of Entitlement to Request another person's Personal Information:

People making a SAR on behalf of a data subject need to be able to show that they have the right to do so.

- If you make a SAR on behalf of a child or young person aged 13 - 15 years, we will independently seek their consent to release the documents to you, even if you have parental responsibility for them. Without this consent we would not disclose the information to you (providing the child in question had mental capacity to give consent).
- If you are making a SAR on behalf of a person with mental capacity aged 16 or over, we require;
 - A signed letter of consent from the data subject saying that you can access their personal data.
 - Proof of identification and proof of address documents for both the requester and the subject

Subject access requests on behalf of persons lacking mental capacity:

- Please note we will only release information if we can establish that the disclosure is justified, having balanced the person's best interests against the person's right to privacy.

c) Evidencing Parental Responsibility

Depending on your circumstances, different information will be required to evidence that you have parental responsibility for the child.

If you are a birth parent making a subject access request on behalf of their child aged below 16 years:

For the birth mother (married or unmarried to birth father of child) you would need to provide a copy of the child's birth certificate - showing both the named mother, and the named child.

For the birth father (married to birth mother of child), you would need to provide a copy of the child's birth certificate - showing the named father, the named child and the birth parents' marriage certificate.

For the birth father (unmarried to birth mother of child), if the child was born before 1 December 2003, you would need to provide the child's birth certificate showing re-registration of the birth after 1 December 2003 and naming the birth father as the child's father, or a Parental Responsibility Order granted by Court, a Residence Order granted by Court, proof of being appointed the child's Guardian by Court, by child's birth mother or other Guardian, or a Parental Responsibility Agreement with birth mother.

For the birth father (unmarried to birth mother of child), if the child was born after 1 December 2003, you would need to provide a copy of the child's birth certificate naming the birth father, or a Parental Responsibility Order granted by Court, a Residence Order granted by Court, proof of being appointed the child's Guardian by Court, by child's birth mother or other Guardian, or a Parental Responsibility Agreement with birth mother.

A person who is not the child's parent making a subject access request on behalf of a child aged below 16 years would need to provide: a Residence Order granted by Court, a Special Guardianship Order granted by Court, or proof of permission to make the subject access request - a signed letter or consent form from a person with parental responsibility and/or from the child (if the child is 13 years or older).

An adoptive parent making a subject access request on behalf of their child aged below 16 years must provide a copy of the Adoption Order.

d) Proof of identity:

Proof of name and address is required to ensure we only give information to the correct person. We consider recent to be less than three months old.

If you are a pupil (aged 13 or over) who is making a request, proof of name will be sufficient.

- Proof of name = passport, photo driving license, national identity card, birth certificate.
- Proof of address = Utility bill, bank statement, credit card statement, current driving license; current TV license; local authority tax bill, HMRC tax document.

Please supply us with a photocopy or scanned image (do not send the originals).

If we are not satisfied you are who you claim to be, we reserve the right to refuse to grant your request.

e) Any questions:
